

CLAIMS:

A mouse pad with a surface composed of split microfiber cloth, with over 90,000 fibers per square inch, providing a dramatically increase in contact points with the computer, while still allowing easy and free movement of the computer mouse, resulting in better traction and greater precision in mousing.

Jerrold Arthur Greiff
Central Trading Agency
Application No. 10/670,296